

In the context of the start of the 67th session of the United Nations General Assembly , the Department of Public Information and the Department of Peacekeeping Operations have launched a digital campaign on UN Peacekeeping, “A global effort to advance peace on the ground”.

The campaign is published on the UN Peacekeeping website and demonstrates how individual Member State contributions to peacekeeping benefit people on the ground.

As part of the campaign, you can visit an interactive “ Wall of Faces ”, click on a face and find out the story behind the image. Each image highlights the impact that a Member State/ Mission has had on the ground. You can then click further and access the local mission content to find out more. The “Wall of Faces” is available in all six UN official languages.

The campaign also includes updated global maps showing personnel contributions to military and police by country, and a Flickr album of stories of the people the UN works to help and the Member States contributing to peace.

Additional links:

- The role of the General Assembly in UN Peacekeeping
- UN Peacekeeping on Facebook

Every face tells a story: new UN Peacekeeping campaign

Thursday, 27 September 2012 09:38

- UN Peacekeeping on Twitter
- Infographic on UN Peacekeeping

