

"I've been coming every year for the past three years and I just wanted to say that it gets better and better."

For the third consecutive year, the UN team in Brussels, coordinated by the UN Regional Information Center (UNRIC), with the support of the City of Brussels, the Belgian Ministries of Foreign Affairs and Defense, invited the general public to come and celebrate UN Day at an interactive, information village on the Grand Place, a UNESCO World Heritage site.

Over five thousand people converged on the town square to learn about the three pillars of the UN – Peace and Security, Human Rights and Development, to experience the living conditions of a refugee family, to sample World Food Programme emergency food rations (surprisingly delicious), to have their photo taken with the Secretary-General and to receive their "UN Pass".
