

20 March 2014. Nobel Peace Prize Winner Desmond Tutu and Mary Robinson, the former President of Ireland say that the EU Summit today in Brussels will be crucial for a UN climate treaty in 2015.

The European Union should “seize the opportunity to act now and create momentum towards a robust, universal, fair and legally binding agreement in Paris in next year,” write Archbishop Tutu and Robinson, who are members of the Elders , a group of independent former World leaders working for peace, justice and human rights worldwide.

The Elders: EU Summit a question of "life or death for millions"

Thursday, 20 March 2014 12:02

