

Saar is an HIV positive gay man living in London, where he found refuge from the religious kibbutz where he grew up in Israel. Ever since he was diagnosed with HIV, Saar has craved his family's love, while they struggle with fears and prejudices. Saar and the rest of the London Gay Men's Chorus provide a glorious soundtrack for this documentary about the power of forgiveness and the power that home has, no matter how far we go.

Ciné -ONU was proud to partner with the Israeli Mission to the EU and UNFPA to mark and bring this moving and uplifting documentary to Brussels. World AIDS Day 2016 raises awareness for HIV Prevention acknowledging that prevention goes beyond access to services, it's about more inclusive societies.

World AIDS Day

There were hands up for #HIVprevention at Heymann Brother's Belgian premiere of "Who's Gonna Love Me" at Cinéma Galerie. Photo: J. Labé

View the full article here and see more photos from the night