

Why talk about digitalisation in development when there are many other more pressing issues to deal with such as HIV/AIDS, poverty or migration?

Access to digital platforms is, however, a priority for many EU Member States in the development sector.

Therefore, the Slovak Presidency of the Council of the EU and the Government of Belgium organised a high-level event on digitalisation for development to highlight the quintessential role of digitalisation in terms of democracy, good governance, migration management and socio-economic development.

Digitization for

Digitization for development: how technology can save and improve lives