

Ronse, 16 October 2019 - In the run-up to UN Day, marked every year on 24 October, Belgian Deputy Prime Minister and Minister for Development Cooperation Alexander De Croo went back to his old school on Wednesday to raise awareness of the UN's work, addressing an audience of 15 to 18-year-old students.

about

the UN #Back2School campaign engages 1,000 students across Europe on the importance of global cooperation